

£1795 (excluding burial fees)

Our cost includes:

- 24/7 advice and support from our competent staff
- Conveyance of the deceased person, at any time, within a 15 mile radius of a Neville Funeral home. There will be an additional cost for a greater distance
- Arrangement meeting with a member of our staff during working hours
- Taking care of all the necessary legal and administrative arrangements and paperwork
- Care and preparation of the deceased by our qualified staff
- We will dress the deceased person in a suitable gown only (dressing in their own clothing is not permitted).
- A simple coffin for burial will be provided
- We will provide a suitable hearse to convey the deceased person to a local cemetery/churchyard with a Funeral Director and necessary staff in attendance
- The date and time will be of Neville Funerals' choosing
- There will be no additional optional extras
- We will not carry out any embalming of the deceased person
- Chapel visits are not permitted

Additional charges:

The cemetery/churchyard fee is not included in the cost and will be charged as an additional disbursement. This will include the preparation of the grave and removal of any existing memorial.

Should the person pass away at a distance greater than 15 miles from a Neville Funerals branch, additional mileage will be charged at £1.50 per mile for the additional mileage. Conveyance from London (congestion charge is included where applicable) is an additional £50.

This funeral option is an unattended committal only. However, you may at a later date, choose to hold a service of celebration to remember the person who has died.

Memorial service at a later date:

Service Chapel at our selected branches.....£100 per hour (plus officiant and organist if required)
Edward Neville Function Room.....£50 (plus catering costs)

Headstones and Memorials

Removal, storage and refixing of headstone.....£388.75
Removal, storage and refixing of kerbset or larger memorial.....£538.75

Preparation of graves:

Where cemeteries do not employ their own gravedigger, Neville Funerals will arrange a gravedigger to attend to open the grave for the burial to take place. Depending on the place of burial, a grave can be prepared to a single, double or treble depth. We would also arrange, with the necessary permissions, for an existing grave to be re-opened for an additional burial (space permitting).

Charges for preparation of grave spaces will be given on application.

When two or more coffins are interred at the same time - an additional £270 per extra coffin.

Grave marker:.....£40

Our staff can provide a temporary grave marker to be placed on the grave after the burial. This will have a small engraved plate with the name of the deceased person, to identify the grave until such time as a permanent memorial can be placed.
